 @MariusVizer

After the great success of judo at the Rio Olympic Games in August and following the first Grand Prix of the new season which will take place in Zagreb at the end of September, the World Judo Tour stops for the fourth consecutive year in Uzbekistan. This Central Asian country long proved its love for the sport, its ability to produce great champions and to organize large events.

Second Grand Prix of a new era, it launches an exciting new judo season. In four years, the world's best judoka will meet again for the great Olympic festival and it will be in Japan, the birthplace of our sport.

On behalf of the entire judo family, I want to thank the Judo Federation of Uzbekistan and its President, Mr. Armen Bagdasarov, who is also an IJF Sport Director, for all the efforts to promote judo in Uzbekistan, in the region and worldwide. I am confident that once again the Tashkent Grand Prix will be a success.

I also want to thank all those who will be present in Uzbekistan at the beginning of October. Be sure that the next generation of Olympic Champions and World Champions is already under construction and the Grand Prix will be a milestone in that construction. I wish you good luck and I ask you to keep going promoting our values and making judo a great sport and a great educational tool.
