Basic Principles
Chapter I. - Basic Principles

¶1.1 The Finance Rules of the International Judo Federation (hereinafter referred to as the “IJF”) in conjunction with the Statutes and other rules and bye-laws are the binding documents for all the financial aspects of the IJF.

¶1.2 The Executive Committee (hereinafter referred to as the “EC”) decides any amendment to the rules. The EC can propose to amend these rules. Amendment proposals with concerned documents must be sent to the General Treasurer. The General Treasurer must submit this proposal together with his/her viewpoints at the next EC Meeting.

¶1.3 If there is an amendment to the Statutes or the Congress Decisions, the concerned contents of the rules will be amended automatically.

¶1.4 In case there is a conflict between the Finance Rules and other IJF Statutes, bye-laws, or rules, the decision of the EC will prevail. In an emergency, the President’s decision shall prevail. However, in such a case, the General Treasurer must report it at the next EC Meeting.

¶1.5 For all important contracts, the General Treasurer must keep the originals until the end of his/her term, at which time the originals are handed over to the General Secretary. When the contracts are signed, the General Treasurer must inform all EC members for their reference. EC members can request in written form a copy of these contracts.
CHAPTER II.

Budget and Accounting
2.1 General

2.1.1 The currency for all the output financial statements and final bookkeeping is Hungarian Forints.

2.1.2 If a transaction is made in another currency, the Hungarian Central Bank exchange rate of the day of the transaction applies.

2.1.3 The financial and accounting period of the International Judo Federation starts on the 1st of January and ends on the 31st of December in each year.

2.1.4 The President or IJF Board Directors can request a report about the financial status of the IJF at any time from the General Treasurer. As soon as the General Treasurer receives such a request, he/she must submit such reports with proper supporting documents to the President or EC.

2.1.5 If the President or IJF Board Directors finds it necessary to perform an audit, the President or the Board Directors can nominate an auditor. The General Treasurer must disclose all the books to the auditor. The auditor’s report must be approved at the next EC Meeting.

2.2 Budget

2.2.1 The Budget is based on the IJF fiscal year.

2.2.2 Each office shall submit its expected expenses for the next two fiscal year to the General Treasurer within two months before the Ordinary Congress.

2.2.3 The General Treasurer shall gather all the income and expense data, draft a budget, and submit it to the EC for approval. The Budget is drafted on the basis of events; for example, the Olympic Games, World Championships, EC Meetings, Commission Meetings, Seminars and other meetings. The Budget (draft) shall be submitted to the Congress and become effective only after the approval of the Congress.

2.2.4 The General Treasurer should ask the EC to approve Budget variances in the following cases:
Chapter II. - Budget and Accounting

- If the actual total expense is more than 20% over the Budget.
- In an emergency, the General Treasurer may pay an expense after receiving the approval of the President and one other EC member who is related to the matter. The General Treasurer must ask for approval at the next EC meeting.
- Each office and chairperson of the commission may propose with supporting documents a Budget variance to the EC in order to carry out his/her duties.

§2.2.5 If the difference between an event budget and the actual total expense exceeds the budget by less than 10%, the General Treasurer may pay the difference and must submit a documented report at the next EC Meeting.

§2.2.6 The expense amount shown in the Budget is the maximum amount each office may spend during a certain period or specified time, or on a specific event. In principle, in order to achieve maximum savings, each office and the General Treasurer must endeavour to comply with their concerned Budgets’ and to keep expenses at a minimum.

§2.2.7 The TV Rights income from the Olympics is one of the largest sources of income for the IJF. The General Treasurer shall submit a pro-forma budget for the Olympics and the next Olympics to the EC for reference.

2.3 Accounting

§2.3.1 Basic Principles for the IJF’s Accounting and Bookkeeping

- To accurately state the financial position of the Organization
- The financial statements should be drafted clearly and concisely so that all members may understand them
- To follow the internationally and locally acceptable accounting rules
Chapter II. - Budget and Accounting

\[2.3.3\] All and any cash income and disbursements must go through the IJF Bank Account.

\[2.3.4\] In principle, the IJF can own any fixed assets as well as Office and other equipments, as long as it is approved by EC members.

\[2.3.5\] Other assets and liabilities, such as receivables and bank borrowing or payables, are stated on a separate statement, as per internationally acceptable accounting practices.

\[2.3.6\] Books must close at the end of each Fiscal year and be audited by an auditing firm. Once the Audit report is finalized, it should be presented at the next EC meeting for approval. This will be then presented to the Congress.

2.4 Bank Transaction

\[2.4.1\] The General Treasurer shall recommend a bank, which will be responsible for all the banking activities of the IJF, to the EC. The General Treasurer will consult with the President and the EC to decide on a major bank. Only one bank should be nominated as a major bank.

This major bank account represents the IJF to all members of the IJF and any concerned third party.

If the General Treasurer needs another bank account for any reason, he/she must ask for the approval of the President or Board of Directors in writing. This account does not represent the IJF to the members nor to the third party and must be used only for internal purposes.

\[2.4.2\] Major criteria for selecting the major bank are creditability, reputation, location and convenience of bank transactions.

\[2.4.3\] The name and holder of the bank account must be the IJF.

\[2.4.4\] The General Treasurer shall oversee all bank transactions. All bank transfers require the signatures of both the President and the General Treasurer.

\[2.4.5\] The General Treasurer may deposit excess cash into an interest bearing time
Chapter II. - Budget and Accounting

deposit guaranteed by the major bank. If the deposit amount is over US $10,000, the General Treasurer shall notify the President in advance.

\[\text{2.4.6} \quad \text{In order to achieve the maximum convenience of expense payment, the President and the General Treasurer shall open a credit card account in the name of the IJF.}\]

\[\text{2.4.7} \quad \text{In the case of a cash shortage due to the time lag of cash income and expense payment, the IJF may borrow money from the bank or other sources upon approval by the EC.}\]

In such a case, the General Treasurer must submit in prior consultation with the President all information about borrowing, such as cash flow statements, the nature of the loan, the interest rate, and forms of guarantee to the bank, to the EC for their approval.

With the EC’s approval of terms and conditions of the loan, the General Treasurer may proceed with the process of borrowing. The President must sign the loan application and letter of guarantee. When cash income is received, repayment of the loan has top priority to any other expense.

\[\text{2.4.8} \quad \text{Opening and closing of the bank account procedure shall be the same as the Office of the General Treasurer transfer procedure.}\]

2.5 Office Transfer

\[\text{2.5.1} \quad \text{When the General Treasurer’s term expires and the new General Treasurer is elected or the General Treasurer resigns during his/her term and the interim General Treasurer is appointed, the transfer of accounts and documents are to be conducted as follows:}\]

\[\text{2.5.2} \quad \text{The President, the former General Treasurer and the new General Treasurer shall first decide together the closing date. The closing date must be within two months upon rotation day. The former General Treasurer shall close the books on the closing day and transfers all the books and documents together with the Bank Balance Statements of the closing day to the new General Treasurer.}\]

\[\text{2.5.3} \quad \text{The three parties shall examine all the papers and sign four copies of the Transfer Statement. Each party shall keep one copy and one copy shall be sent to the General Secretary. In case of any difficulty, the EC shall receive one copy each of all the papers and the Transfer Statement for their examination.}\]
Chapter II. - Budget and Accounting

2.5.4 The bank account is closed on the closing day and the new General Treasurer shall recommend a bank to the EC in consultation with the President. The new General Treasurer may open a new bank account in the name of the IJF after receiving the approval of the EC.
